Indiana Getaways Up for Grabs at VisitIndiana.com
Register to win packages from Caribbean Cove, French Lick/West Baden, White River State Park, and more

INDIANAPOLIS — February is a perfect time to take a winter getaway close to home or start making plans for spring break. To help, the Indiana Office of Tourism Development is offering a unique opportunity for travelers to experience several great destinations around Indiana. During the month of February, everyone who goes to VisitIndiana.com can click on a special contest link and sign up for a chance to win one of three Indiana travel packages worth more $4000 each. Winners will receive attraction tickets, gift certificates, overnight stays and other getaway activities from more than 20 Indiana destinations. Details of each getaway will be available at VisitIndiana.com beginning February 1.

“Indiana offers tremendous value for people who are looking for travel opportunities on a budget,” said Lt. Governor Becky Skillman. “I encourage everyone to use VisitIndiana.com as their travel planning resource and take advantage of this chance to win an amazing Indiana travel package.”

Destinations taking part in the giveaway include: Beef & Boards Dinner Theatre, Indianapolis; Caribbean Cove Indoor Water Park, Indianapolis; Conner Prairie Interactive History Park, Fishers; Fort Wayne; French Lick/West Baden; Hamilton County; Hendricks County; Henry County; Indiana Department of Natural Resources; Indiana Historical Society, Indianapolis; Jackson, Jennings and Jefferson Counties; Jay County; Kosciusko County; Lafayette and West Lafayette; Madison; Noblesville; Richmond/Wayne County; Switzerland County; Wabash County; and White River State Park in Indianapolis.

VisitIndiana.com has helpful sections for trip ideas, events & festivals, and travel discounts. The Indiana Insider blog featured on the VisitIndiana.com homepage offers many first-hand accounts of great things to see and do in Indiana. Free copies of the 2010 Indiana travel publications are available for ordering online at VisitIndiana.com or by calling toll-free (800) 677-9800.

Lt. Gov. Becky Skillman oversees the Indiana Office of Tourism Development. Amy Vaughan serves as the agency's director.
